But It is Only $100 Each Way-Four Rattling Finishes Stir Up the Crowd at Aqueduct -Form Players Enjoy a Day of Profit -Increase of Attendance

The attendance increased to about 8,000 at Aqueduct yesterday afternoon, as the heat of the city made ocean breezes popular. Then, too, the Queens County Jockey Club Then, too, the Queens County Jockey Club presented one of the most attractive cards of the meeting so far, and as three hot favorites and a second choice won there was a general feeling of saitsfaction when the day's sport was over. Four finishes were so close that the crowd stood on tiptoe and beliewed in its excitement. It was the first day that the crowd seemed possessed with that frenzy which makes horse racing such a fascinating Sitting on the clubhouse veranda when the borses went to the post for the first race was Michael F. Dwyer. Mr. Dwyer is an involid, being a sufferer from locomotor staxia. He also has suffered many financial reverses since the days when $20,000 bets to him were mere bagatelles. But he is still devoted to the sport of kings and has gradually gotten together a pretty fair stable again. Thousands of racegoers, therefore, are intensely interested whenever one of are intensely interested whenever one of Mr. Dwyer's horses runs and wins, for it is always the case that he has a good-sized bet down in every instance. He was in a pretty good field, as the Columbia Stable's Gloriosa was the favorite at 11 to 10, with J. J. McCafferty's Joe Cobb and F. M. Taylor's Bismarck heavily backed at fours. Then the Messrs. Keenes' Handspinner was much sought after at eights, while Jack Joyner's Heroine was pounded down from 50 to 1 to fifteens. Rosstand was neglected by the wise bettors, but those who knew the colt's game qualities got aboard at 20 to 1 and even better. Mr. Dwyer was not confident that the colt could win, but he would not let him run without a bet, so his commissioner placed $100 across the board, getting 20, 6 and 2.

Baltimore. April 23.—The exhibition of the locals in the opening game of the American League was of the most disappointing charactar. Joe Kelley at third proved a dismal failure, and the miserable work of the club President's son-in-law cast a gloom over the entire team. The Pittsburg players have raised $10,000, which they are willing to bet that they will win the pennant again this season. They have sent word to Robison of St. Louis that they are ready to accept the latter's proposition that they will not win the champloaship. It would be a shame for the Pirates to take the money.

TEMPORARY; CASE TO BE HEARD AGAIN IN FIVE DAYS.

Mack Thinks His Star Can Play Ball Except in Philadelphia -- National League Enoined From Interfering With Players Washington-Setback for Robison and Davis in Common Pleas Court No. 5 this afternoon granted a temporary injunction against Napoleon A. Lajole, restraining him from playing ball with any other except the Philadelphia National League team. William C. Anderson contended that the injunction should not be issued against Bernhard and Fraser because there was nothing in the bill to show that they were such skilful players as could not readily be replaced. Judge Ralston said that when the case was argued before the court originally no testimony was heard as to Bernhard and Freser. Col. Rogers replied that the reason of that was that in those cases demurrers had been filed which admitted the facts and it was common knowledge that Bernhard and Fraser were skilful players. The court issued a prelim-inary five-days injunction against Lajoie and said that it would come up on Monday next with the others, when the whole matter should be gone into on motion to dissolve the injunction. The court asked if there would be any difficulty in serving the injuction and

Mr. Anderson replied no.
Mr. Anderson asked that security tered in the sum of $10,000 before the injunc-tion should be issued, but the court fixed on $2,500 to be approved by the prothonotary Col. Rogers furnished the necessary bond. He expressed surprise that the plaintiff should be asked by counsel on the other side to en-ter security for doing what the Supreme Court said they had a right to do.

BALTIMORE, April 23.—The Athletics arrived in town this afternoon. The first man seen by the gathering awaiting their coming was Lajoie. When he got down from his seat Lajoie said: "I have not had time to think much of the matter as yet. All I know now is that I am in Manager Mack's hands and will follow his directions."

"I do not think, from what our attorneys tell us, that any attempt will be made to serve an injunction on Lajoie should the lower court grant it, until we get back to Philadelphia," said Mack. "It is the opinion of our attorneys that it cannot be served in any other State. When it is served I am inclined to think that, while it would not be illegal to play Lajoie in another State, it might get us into trouble in Philadelphia as contempt of court. However, we will play Lajoie until we have to put him out of the game. to think much of the matter as yet. All I

Washington, April 23—Judge Bradley of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia late this afternoon issued an order requiring the National League officials to show cause why they should not be restrained from interfering with certain members of the Washington club of the American League. This order was issued on petition of Fred Postal, President of the Washington club, and was secured in anticipation of action by the National League officials toward securing injunctions restraining those members of the Washington club from playing who are claimed by National League clubs. It is understood that the Lajoic case will be appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, and pending its settlement the order issued to-day will operate to allow the players who, it is asserted, junped their National League contracts to play with the Washington American League club.

St. Louis, April 23—President Robinson of the local National League club went into the Circuit Court to-day and attempted to enjoin Heidrick, Harper and Wallace, who he declares were under contract with him, from playing with the American League team. The case against Heidrick was heard first. Judge Fisher declined to grant the temporary injunction, saying that he would hear the case on Thursday morning. Similar action was taken by Judge Taity in the cases of Harper and Wallace, the cases being set for Monday morning.

Refused Its Offer. Owing to the refusal of Jim Jeffries to accept the offer of $15,000 for a fight between himself and Bob Fitzsimmons, with additional expenses of $1,000 to each, made by the National Sporting Club of London, that organization made the proposal last Friday, said the club would now refuse to entertain any suggestion from either puglist and that the scrappers would never get a chance again of boxing under the auspicies of the English club. Both Jeffries and Fitzsimmons have been notified to this effect.

To date none of the San Francisco clubs has made any attempt to bid for the fight. It is understood that their silence in this direction has been prompted by the fact that there is a lot of jealousy among the California clubs, which are anxious to hold the combat, and that the authorities there in order not to incur the displeasure of some of the powers that be, are holding aloof in the way of the necessary license. Despite this fact Fitzsimmons is confident that the mill will take place in San Francisco, and he has resumed his training more vigorously than ever.

The croquet season will begin on May officially, and big preparations have been made for its inauguration. The Union Cre-quet Club, which usually makes the Central Park lawn its headquarters, proposes to play its first match on May 5, and play will be continued every fine day until about Thankscontinued every fine day until about Thanksgiving Day. Heretofore it was the custom of the Park Board to allow the croquet players only four days a week, but the players objected and now they will be allowed to play every day. The croquet house at the Park has been renovated and improved. A new club composed of Normal College girls and called the Normal Chib, will also play in the Park. J. T. Miller, Howard Gould and J. H.

Welsh have been elected to membership.
